EDUCATION

University of Pennsylvania, Anthropology Department, Philadelphia, PA, 1991

PhD Thesis: Cultural Interaction during the Spanish Colonial Period: El Pueblo de Los Angeles, California

Macalester College, St. Paul, MN, 1981

B.A. Anthropology and Chemistry

EXPERIENCE

Teaching and Administration

2006-2013 Chair, Department of Anthropology, Santa Clara University
2006 (W&Spr) Acting Director, Environmental Studies Institute
2012- Professor, Santa Clara University, Departments of Anthropology/Environmental Studies and Sciences
2010-2013 Interim Campus Archaeologist
2005-2012 Associate Professor, Santa Clara University, Department of Anthropology/Environmental Studies Program
1999-2005 Assistant Professor, Santa Clara University, Department of Anthropology and Sociology/Environmental Studies Program
1994-1999 Visiting Assistant Professor, The College of William and Mary, Anthropology Department
1990 Lecturer, Anthropology, Bryn Mawr College
1989-1990 Lecturer, University of Pennsylvania, College of General Studies

Research

School for Advanced Research, Seminar participant. The Thailand Archaeometallurgy Project: A Holistic Approach to Characterizing Metallurgy's Societal Impact in Prehistoric Southeast Asia, April 29 – May 1, 2014.

Cotsen Fellow, School for Advanced Research, After the Fall: Iron Age Interaction in Central Anatolia. Summer 2009.

Senior Fulbright Specialist, ICAES, Southeast Asia Environment and Phytoliths, 2004.

Senior Research Fellow, Colonial Williamsburg Foundation, Department of Archaeological Research, 1995-2000:

Landscapes and environmental analysis: Historical human-environmental relationships

Research Associate, The University Museum, Philadelphia, PA, Museum Applied Science Center for Archaeology, Spring 1994-2007: Phytolith Analysis: Human-environmental interaction

Research Fellow, Anthropology Department, The Australian Museum, Sydney, Australia, 8-9/1997 & 5-7/1995: Phytolith Analysis of Lithic Residues, Garua Island, West New Britain, PNG

Mellon Postdoctoral Fellow, Smithsonian Tropical Research Institute (STRI), Panama, Paleoecology Section, 1991-1993:

Phytolith analysis: Paleo-environments and Rice Agriculture, Central Thailand
